On average, in 2018, the cost of holding people in federal custody was $102.60 per day per adult, or $37,449 a year.

The average cost for psychiatric treatment in a community hospital ranges from $3,616 to $8,509, depending on the type of illness being treated. A simple calculation reveals that for an adult, the cost of 35 to 83 days in prison would provide the financing of a hospitalization that would have a better chance of bringing about recovery.

RESIDENTIAL BOARD & CARE

Celebrating over 35 years of Mental Health & Rehabilitation in Ventura County

To improve the quality of life for adults experiencing serious mental illness, addiction, lack of housing and inadequate physical health care.

We do this through providing health navigation services, rehabilitation, wellness & recovery programs, as well as temporary, transitional and permanent supported housing in Ventura County.

Not everyone with a severe mental illness is independent enough to thrive in permanent supportive housing. Some still need help with meals, laundry, and medications. Unfortunately, the disappearance of board-and-cares leaves many of these vulnerable people without an option.

We have a 92% retention in both residential facilities as we provide care and supervision for some intensive VCBH clients living in the community. Residents improvement (with care & supervision, medication support and in-house mobile wellness peer support groups) enable residents to get off conservatorships and become independent with a a better quality of life. Our Program is an Augmented Board and Care through the VCBH Contract. We have no direct admissions. VCBH serves as the gatekeeper for both these programs.
